Winter beds ward set to open at PAH

A NEW £2.8m winter beds ward is to be built at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital as it prepares to cope with the seasonal surge in demand for services.

The hospital continually runs close to capacity during the winter months and any increase in pressure due to extremely cold weather or illness leaves it struggling to find all the beds required.

Hospital trust chief executive Melanie Walker said: "This extra investment in bed availability will help us improve the care of all of our patients, including those arriving for planned treatment and those requiring more urgent care."

The new modular building will be craned into position on top of the main visitors car park close to the accident and emergency department. It will provide 20 vital extra beds.

Preparation work is due to start on Monday and it is expected to be up and running before Christmas.

The hospital is providing extra and well signed alternative patient and visitor parking around the hospital site.

Parking for those staff who will be displaced from their normal parking areas to make way for visitors will include an additional 60 extra places at the nearby Linkway multi-storey car park.

The number of disabled parking spaces

gemma.gardner@hertsexnews.co.uk

on the hospital site will remain exactly the same.

Some spaces in the main visitor car park will be freed up once initial construction work is completed.

"We tried to avoid using some of the busy visitor parking area but alternative locations did not work or failed to provide the additional number of beds we need," said Ms Walker.

"I would ask everyone to bear with us, particularly during the initial construction phase. We will do all we can to minimise parking disruption."

The Government made an extra £250m available in the summer to help this winter and another £250m will follow in a year's time.

The £2.8m investment at PAH comes at a time when the hospital has been improving its performance. It is now rated one of the best in the East of England.

A new rating system issued by the Care Quality Commission to measure the quality and safety of care patients receive places PAH in Band 5. Hospitals in the 'most at risk' category are in Bands 1 and 2 while those rated 'least at risk' are in Band 6.

Bat attack victim may never regain full use of hand

A PARTYGOER who was attacked with a baseball bat during a party may lose the full use of his left hand.

Police revealed the extent of the 25-year-old victim's injuries as they renewed an appeal for witnesses.

The man, who lives in Harlow and is still receiving hospital treatment, was one of three people injured during the party at Water Lane near Harlow on Sunday, September 22.

Police officers were called to the property at about 1.40am following reports of a disturbance. They arrived to find that three people had been assaulted by a group of up to five men who had apparently gatecrashed after details were posted on Facebook.

The 25-year-old was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital where he was treated for a fractured arm and finger, cuts and lacerations to his face and head.

PC James Smith said: "His hand was in a cast and he is now completing physiotherapy to regain movement in the hand. But having suffered a total of nine fractures in his middle finger he is unlikely to ever be able to bend it at the knuckle again."

Man suffers jaw break in assault

A MAN suffered a broken jaw after being punched and kicked during an unprovoked assault in Harlow.

The attack took place shortly after 11pm on Saturday, October 26 as the 39-year-old victim was walking with two friends along Hookfield towards shops at Bush Fair.

They were approached by three men who shouted abuse at them before one approached the victim from behind and punched him on the back of the head before landing a barrage of blows.

The victim was then kicked by two of them while he was on the ground.

The man who landed the first punch is described as white, 5ft 9in tall, of skinny build, in his mid to late 20s with short, dark hair. The second man is described as white, 5ft 11in, of skinny build, 18-19 years old with short, dark hair. He was wearing a dark coloured long sleeve top and jeans.

Anyone with information should contact PC James Bull on 101.

RECOVERING: Angela Hodgson with Teddy

Dog clamps jaws around tiny Teddy

A DOG walker risked serious injury to save her stepdaughter's Chihuahua when it was attacked by a bull terrier.

Angela Hodgson, of Penshurst, Old Harlow, was walking the dog on a footpath across East Park when the terrier, which was on an extending lead, ran over and bit Teddy.

The tiny Chihuahua suffered a perforated abdomen and extensive damage to his right hind leg in the attack.

Mrs Hodgson, 64, was also hurt during the incident.

"When I turned the corner from Park Hill I saw a man bending

BIANCA CASTRO

down on the grass and his dog was sitting next to him," she said. "As soon as it spotted Teddy it came bounding over and because it had a long extendable lead it reached us and latched its jaws down on Teddy."

"I had Teddy on a harness and the shortest setting of his lead. I lifted him up but I couldn't get him high enough to be safe."

She added: "I held onto Teddy because I know that dogs shake their prey and the man couldn't get his dog to let go. He ended up using a stick to unclamp his jaws.

"Teddy was screaming and it was the most awful noise. He was panicking so much and he bit my hand trying to escape as I held onto him."

"I was absolutely terrified, it was horrific."

Teddy, whose vet bills have so far reached £1,200, underwent exploratory surgery to assess his injuries but is now recovering well.

Mrs Hodgson said she reported the incident to police but was told that because the other dog was on a lead it was deemed to be under control.

READERSLETTERS*Councillor's criticism of health centres trust is manifestly unfair

SIR, We would like to respond on behalf of Harlow Health Centres Trust to the letter from Councillor Tony Hall (Star, October 31). Unfortunately much of the information contained in the letter is either incorrect or biased by being taken out of context. It would appear he is not cognisant of the circumstances surrounding the redevelopment of Lister House. HHCT was set up by Harlow Council in the early 1980s and is now a registered charity governed by the Charities Commission to a strict set of rules. Great care is taken to ensure these rules/restrictions are observed and, if necessary, legal advice is taken. Actions taken by HHCT are non political and without bias and the Trustees have never received remuneration directly or indirectly for their service.

The existing Lister House Health Centre was considered out of date and in need of replacement. The trust was in the process of doing this when it was approached by the council requesting the new building be relocated on the Abercrombie Way site, thereby enabling the council's regeneration plans for the Staple Tye area to proceed.

A sum of up to £500,000 was to be made available from central government funds to make the new site suitable for development; no council taxpayers' money is being used to fund this redevelopment. Current calculations indicate the provision of a new building for health use will cost HHCT in excess of £100,000 more per annum compared to the existing health centre. This was considered a worthwhile investment for the benefit of the people of Harlow.

The figures quoted by Cllr Hall ignore the outstanding loans for building developments undertaken by HHCT across the town. The figure quoted of £2.5m held in cash is completely and utterly incorrect - HHCT's balance in the bank from the last published accounts was £361,975. This is part of our operating surplus which we use for grants and donations to organisations in and around Harlow to improve healthcare and wellbeing.

In 2013 we will have donated over £300,000 to further improve health care in the town. We also use these cash reserves to fund design on further new health centre developments in and around Harlow.

Cllr Hall's letter is manifestly unfair. HHCT's sole (non-profit) purpose is to improve health care and wellbeing in Harlow and the surrounding areas and the new Lister House will be a cost-effective example of modern health centre facilities benefitting many thousands of Harlow patients.

UKIP's by-election results show I'm far from being delusional

SIR, It seems David Pugh seems to have some issues with UKIP and our growth and success (Letters, October 31). I thank him for helping with our publicity but I've no idea why he tells me to keep collecting bus tickets.

Might I suggest that if the best he can do to illustrate his point is pick a Scottish parliamentary by-election, then he should look a little further afield. I also seem to recall that Scotland isn't exactly a happy hunting ground for the Conservatives either - so coming fifth behind the four old establishment parties is probably where I would expect us to be!

Take the parliamentary by-elections over the last year - UKIP finished second to Labour in South Shields, Rotherham and Middlesbrough, and second to the Liberal Democrats in Eastleigh.

Or perhaps you'd care to look at May's county council elections where UKIP won 147 seats on 23 councils - results that if repeated in 2015 would have given us an MP in Boston and at least two more.

Here in Essex UKIP won nine seats, the same as Labour and the Liberal Democrats. In Harlow I was only 92 votes away from winning the Harlow South East division and in Harlow West Dan Long and Jerry Crawford came third and fourth - beating the Conservatives into fifth and sixth without being able to spend a single penny on their campaigns.

So it really shows that if you vote UKIP you will get UKIP. I haven't even mentioned the European Elections next May that most commentators expect us to win.

Only one political party is increasing its membership - UKIP. In fact the Tories' Bow Group think tank believe we could be bigger than the Conservatives by 2018. Some might say I'm far from delusional!

Mark Gough
Glebelands, Harlow

Council is doing all it can to alleviate town's housing crisis

SIR, IF UKIP candidate Dan Long (Letters, October 31) had been following Council business over the past few months he would have noticed a couple of important matters.

Firstly, it is the Tories at County Hall who are looking to close the children's centres in Harlow. Harlow Council opposes this and is challenging County Hall to change its mind and protect the interests of the young people of Harlow.

Secondly, Harlow Council has already consulted on and altered its allocations policy to reflect the wishes of people in the town and strengthened the local connection criteria required for applicants to join the Housing Needs Register. The issue remains, however, that demand outstrips supply with around 5,500 people wanting to be housed by the council.

Forces within the Civic Centre who were determined to shut the service down have ploughed on to the bitter end and must now be congratulating themselves.

And what a result for the ruling Labour group! In bringing about the closure of one of Harlow's flagship facilities, it has succeeded where even the previous Tory administration failed.

Yes, the council has "won" the legal fight but there are no victors in this sad campaign - least of all the town of Harlow and its struggling council taxpayers.

Hugh McAlpine

Without HWRA the elderly and vulnerable are easy targets

SIR, When we look at the facts of what your reader stated about Harlow Welfare Rights and Advice service (Letters, October 24) you find he has hit the nail right on the head.

I also have been a user of this life-saving service. Since it was forced to close it has been open season for Harlow Council to do what they want to the vulnerable and elderly, as we clearly have nobody to turn to.

I believe this vindictive behaviour is because HWRA stopped many unnecessary court actions and helped the residents of Harlow.

These council bullies have no concern whether we have to go without food to pay bills, but then again why should they? They do not seem to have mental health issues that preclude them from getting work but seem to have a simple parochial attitude which is self-evident of all bullies.

No doubt the cost for all the court proceedings will come from the taxpayers and from bailiffs knocking on even more doors of easy targets - the vulnerable and elderly.

Mallows Green, Harlow

Survey will examine key issues for workers caring for loved one

SIR, Increasing numbers of Star readers will be taking on care of loved ones. Over half will be juggling paid work with unpaid care for loved ones.

In particular we are seeing a rise in the number of working families supporting a loved one with dementia. They may not instantly identify themselves a 'carer'. It might be they are helping a parent or an older relative with shopping, housework, medication or getting about.

Help can start at a few hours a week, but it can also suddenly creep up and become difficult to manage, especially if families are living apart. Caring for an older loved one often comes at peak career age. Without the right support the strain of caring and working, often alongside raising children, can force employees with valuable experience and skill out of the workforce.

Carers UK's research shows 2.3m people in the UK have given up work to care for a loved one. Businesses we are working with tell the same story as the statistics - dementia care is a key issue for workforce retention, recruitment and resilience.

Through a survey launched this week we will examine key issues and support needs for employees caring for a loved one with dementia and practical ways in which employers and other parties can help.

The surveys can be found at www.carersuk.org/dementiaurvey.

WITH building work about to start on Harlow's new University Technical College, the man who will take the helm has spoken of his enthusiasm for the challenges that lie ahead.

Planning permission for the multi-million pound building - named the Sir Charles Kao University Technical College in honour of the Nobel Prize-winning scientist who pioneered the development and use of fibre optics while working for Standard Telephones and Cables in Harlow - was granted last month.

It will be located on the Harlow College campus in Velizy Avenue and is due to open in September next year.

The college will take students aged 14-19 who will be taught the foundation subjects of English, mathematics and science as well as working towards technical qualifications built around the UTC's specialisms of medical technology and smart environments.

Principal designate Mike McKeaveny said: "We will provide the core curriculum as well as the industry challenges that young people going into these particular areas will or could come across.

"Our aim is to get students work-fit and university-fit. Students will follow both specialisms until Year 11 and then can specify which route they want to take.

"It's about arming them with experience as well as those soft skills but it is not an easy option."

The UTC will work with several industry specialists in partnerships and sponsorships, including Anglia Ruskin University, Johnson's Control, GlaxoSmithKline and Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Mr McKeaveny, who recently moved to Hertfordshire to commit to his new role, has previous experience at a London UTC.

"I cannot wait to get started," he said. "I'm really excited about this and I wouldn't take the job unless I thought it was a great fit. Every time I had a conversation about the UTC it just built my enthusiasm.

"There will be opportunities to work locally as well as elsewhere. It's about options and helping young people."

He added: "I want to celebrate every bit of success that the students have. We want to develop them so they are work and university fit and work positively with other schools in Harlow.

"It isn't about poaching students but providing the best opportunities for the town and surrounding area's young people. We're going to make our mark and it's going to be a really positive mark."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who championed the case for the UTC, said: "I spent two years with the college working to get this UTC in Harlow. It will offer a vocational education that will provide young people with an incredible opportunity and fantastic skills for them to use in the future.

"I cannot wait until September 2014. The Sir Charles Kao University Technical College is going to be one of Harlow's finest achievements."

NOSTALGIA

Everyone a winner in schools' footie game

A KEEN footballer bought a photograph of his infant school football team with their 'winner's' shield - which they had to share with the opposition after drawing 3-3.

Steve Tyne was part of the Tany's Dell Infants team and the photograph shows the players with The Downs team and their shared trophy.

"This photograph was taken in 1960-61 when I played football at Tany's Dell," said Steve. "I was only about 10 or 11 at the time."

"I remember we drew 3-3 with The Downs and we shared the trophy."

"When we left school a lot of the people in the photograph, including myself, formed a team called Horngate as it crossed the Hornbeams and Canons Gate so that's where the name came from. We did quite well, we played in the Harlow league."

Steve, of Ansley Gardens, went to Burnt Mill School after finishing at Tany's Dell. "I remember a Mr Barrell, I think that was his name and he was our football teacher," he said.

"He had a side car and could fit around two or three players. My dad, who was a postman, would fit the rest of us in his van and that's how we travelled to matches."

"What I remember most about those times are the heavy boots we used to wear with the proper studs. I remember a lot of heavy, thick mud."

"I can remember almost everybody in the picture apart from a few names."

According to Steve, the photograph shows, Robert

Tidd, Brian Day, John Summers, Ian Baldwin, Robert Froud, Jown Stewart, and Steven Proud who all played for Tany's Dell team.

"There were some really good players and I loved playing football," said Steve.

"The Horngate team did quite well. We were quite successful in the Harlow league; it was a great time."

The 62-year-old added: "I remember playing football with Don Waters but on the opposing team and we were up against each other for top goalscorer of the season."

The day Hilda met our future king

MEMORIES were sparked for one reader after last week's Nostalgia featured a picture of the Prince of Wales' visit to Cossor Electronics.

Hilda Doris Smith, 88, worked for the company matching cables up until her retirement more than 20 years ago.

She met Prince Charles when he visited the company in 1978.

"I was chosen by Cossor to show off all the cables and cabling that we did," said Hilda. "He was very good, he seemed very interested in everything and it was interesting work."

"I enjoyed my time at Cossor. I was there a while."

Hilda moved to Harlow in 1953 and was the first and only resident in her current home in Broomfield.

She added: "I moved to Harlow when my daughter was six-years-old and I've been here, in the same house, ever since."

"There were a group of homes here and we moved in when it was brand new. I couldn't imagine living anywhere else now."

Attack left cyclist with black eyes

A CYCLIST was left with two black eyes after he punched in the face by muggers.

The robbery took place shortly after midnight on Saturday, October 26 as the 54-year-old victim was pushing his bike along Second Avenue between Netteswell pond and the roundabout at Tillwicks Road.

Two men and a woman walked passed him before one of the men turned back and demanded his bike.

The victim was punched in the face when he refused to hand it over.

The attacker is described as of mixed race, 18-19 years old, 5ft 6ins tall and of medium build. He was wearing a short black jacket, black trousers and a dark coloured baseball cap.

The bike is a black and white BARRACUDA lightweight racing cycle with a rack.

Anyone with information about the robbery should call PC James Bull on 101.

Hundreds join protest to save youth service

BIANCA CASTRO

PROTESTORS from Harlow joined a demonstration against cuts to the county's youth service.

Essex County Council has started a consultation on plans to reduce the youth services budget by £3m by 2014/15 to just £2.1m.

A group of protestors - including members of the youth council and representatives from Occasio House - travelled to Essex County Council's headquarters in Chelmsford.

The youth council collected signatures for a petition which will be submitted to the consultation.

Labour parliamentary hopeful Suzy Stride and Councillor Emma Toal, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for youth and citizenship, provided a coach to the march, which was organised by trade union Unite.

Ms Stride said: "We will keep fighting to save the youth service from ECC Tory cuts because we believe in investing in young people

PROTEST: Young people joined members of trade union Unite, Harlow Council and Harlow's Labour parliamentary candidate Suzy Stride to protest outside County Hall in Chelmsford and in communities.

"I hope the council listen to us and change their minds.

"Young people in Harlow need the youth services. They're not a luxury, they're vital to their job prospects and general well-being.

Cllr Toal added: "I was proud to stand shoulder-to-shoulder with young people from across Essex to stand up for what is right.

"It was a really powerful demonstration, young people might not have a vote but they definitely have a voice and that was heard at the protest."

Harlow Conservative MP Robert Halfon added his voice to the campaign and called on the Government to safeguard the future of youth services.

Mr Halfon has also asked the Leader of the House of Commons, Andrew Lansley, for a debate on youth services in Harlow.

In a letter Mr Halfon said: "I hope that you may be able to offer some reassurance."

Globetrotting Graham prepares for fundraising challenge number 32

A TRAVELLING fundraiser has explored the world all in the name of charity and is now taking on his toughest challenge yet.

Graham Ellis, a chartered surveyor, has been raising cash for charities for the past 30 years. The 63-year-old is hoping to raise £5,000 for the Stroke Association in his latest charity challenge to trek the Sahara Desert.

He said: "The first thing I ever did for charity was the London Marathon in 1981. Since then I've done something every year.

"I raised money for the baby resuscitation unit which was very small then. They had a unit full of wires and things to help save a baby's life and I managed to raise enough money to buy two of them.

"It was seeing that and realising I could help that spurred me on to do more. I try to do a local charity one year and a national charity the next."

Graham who has completed several challenges with his grandson Georgie will be flying out to Morocco on November 17 to start his 100km trek across one of the toughest terrains on the planet.

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

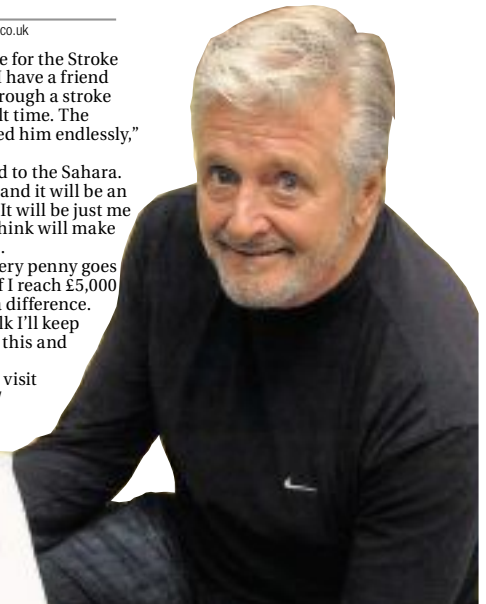

"I chose to fundraise for the Stroke Association because I have a friend who recently went through a stroke and has had a difficult time. The charity have supported him endlessly," he added.

"I'm looking forward to the Sahara. I've never been there and it will be an amazing experience. It will be just me and a guide which I think will make it more of a challenge.

"But it's worth it, every penny goes to a great cause and if I reach £5,000 then it should make a difference.

"As long as I can walk I'll keep doing challenges like this and fundraising."

Birthday girl hosts charity quiz night

A KIND-hearted youngster has decided to host a charity quiz night instead of having a 10th birthday party.

Ten-year-old Abbiegail Jackson will be holding the quiz night for mental health charity Mind on her birthday today (Thursday).

The Hare Street Primary school student was inspired to raise cash for the charity as her mum suffers from depression and her half-brother has autism.

Abbiegail, pictured above with her class teacher Matt Breavington, will be holding the quiz night and raffle at Colt Hatch Social Club. She is hoping to raise £60 for the charity.

Mum Judith, 33, of Hare Street Springs, said: "I am so proud of her. She has worked really hard and the quiz night is only one idea. She has lots more fundraising ideas.

"Lots of businesses have offered prizes for her raffle and she has organised the questions which will all have the ten-year theme. She's done really well.

"She wanted to do something because she felt she could help. It's amazing."

Doors open to Abbiegail's quiz night at 7.30pm tonight and tickets are £3 per person, with teams of up to six people allowed to enter.

No close shaves for police football team

The team, which is hoping to raise £1,000 for the charity, began fundraising on Friday and will carry on until the end of the month.

Anyone wanting to sponsor them can do so by visiting www.justgiving.com/Hpfcmoveember.

Marc is dancing his way towards his ballet dream

A MAN with Down's syndrome is hoping to achieve his ballet dream after being inspired by Billy Elliot.

Marc Belsey, who is a member of Harlow-based Razed Roof, dreams of being a professional ballet dancer and performing in his favourite show.

Marc, 27, of St Leonard's Road in Nazeing, was recently one of the performers who put on a stunning Space Jam show at Mayhem Theatre in Hoddesdon. His mum, Yvonne, paid tribute to the performing arts centre for the support they have shown to help Marc improve.

"They are so lovely with Marc," said Yvonne, 66.

Marc's love for dance was sparked when he took part in a performance of Billy Elliot with Razed Roof at Harlow Playhouse. Now he has dragged his mum to see the show three times in the West End.

"We kept asking each other 'Why ballet?' but he just loves it," Yvonne said.

Marc, who has studied at Harlow College, does not let his disability get in the way of everyday life.

Suspects arrested after Islamic centre arson attack face no further action

FOUR people arrested in connection with an arson attack on Harlow Islamic Centre back in August will have no further action taken against them.

All four were released on bail after their arrests but detectives on Thursday confirmed they were no longer suspects.

As a result of the development officers investigating the incident have renewed their appeal for information and are asking people to have another close look at CCTV images that were released in the wake of the attack.

Three men are seen to approach the building in Paringdon Road at 1.24am on Monday, August 26. One can be seen to be holding a drill while another is holding what police believe to be a canister of insulation foam.

People arriving for early morning prayers found insulation foam had been sprayed under all of the shutters which cover the doors and windows.

Chief Inspector Ed Wells, of Essex Police, said at the time: "It appears they [the culprits] have set fire to foam at one of the centre's doors which has damaged the wall, but thankfully not taken hold of the building."

Anyone with information should contact Harlow CID on 101.

Advice service to continue to help residents

SUPPORTERS of Harlow's embattled welfare rights and advice service have vented their anger at Harlow Council after it was granted a winding-up order.

HWRA, which this week said it was exploring other ways which would allow it to continue to provide help to people in the town, insisted the authority could have resolved the matter out of court.

Alan Jones, former councillor and leader of Harlow Council and now secretary of the Friends of Welfare Rights & Advice, said: "I am ashamed of Harlow Council and I am ashamed of Harlow Labour Party."

"Harlow Council could have resolved this matter and dealt with it in the interests of the town."

The service got into debt because of temporary cashflow problems when expected external funding was delayed.

HWRA's offer to pay before its contract was terminated was rejected by the council which disputed the service's ability to pay.

In making the winding-up order HWRA said the judge expressed his sorrow at the loss of another advice centre service, especially when legal aid was being cut.

He told the group he had no alternative but to grant the order because HWRA had been unable to satisfy him on technical legal points, the most important of which was to demonstrate its counterclaim was greater than the sum owed to the council.

HWRA said this was partly due to not being able to access IT records and documents stored at the Advice Centre in the town.

HWRA claim that contrary to what councillors were advised by officers, the judge said the council could use discretion and did not have to apply for a winding-up order.

Mr Jones said: "We need people like HWRA to fight for those who need expert support."

"I abhor the demonization of decent, honest people who have given their whole working lives to helping Harlow and Harlow people. That is unacceptable."

Chair of the Friends Cliff Moore added: "HWRA helped thousands of people every year. Many people have helped with donations large and small to fund our campaign to support the service."

"All deserve to see what is being sacrificed without just cause – and at massive expense to council taxpayers."

Harlow Council said they stood by the statement they released last week after the decision was announced.

Suspended sentence for driver in police chase

A DRIVER who led police on a 60mph chase before crashing in Old Harlow has been given a suspended jail sentence.

Thomas Purvis, 23, of Potter Street, Harlow, pleaded guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday to dangerous driving, failing to stop, driving with no insurance and possession of cocaine.

The court was told that because he had the drug on him Purvis panicked and accelerated away from police after they tried to stop him. He drove straight across mini roundabouts and eventually crashed into a bush and ran off.

He was tracked down and finally found hiding in a garden in Old Harlow.

Daniel Howell, representing Purvis, said in mitigation his client wanted to get to grips with his drug problem. "He accepts he has been foolish to dabble in drug," said Mr Howell.

Recorder Michael Ashe imposed a three-month prison sentence suspended for 18 months, with the supervision order, a three-month electronically tagged curfew from 9pm to 5am and drug and alcohol treatment programmes. Purvis was also ordered to pay £425 costs.

Christmas Parties

Have you booked for the festive season?

BEFORE you decide on a venue for your Christmas party this year, take the time to find out what is important to your guests. It may sound simple but things like a live band, seated or buffet service, cocktails etc might make or break your festive fun.

When you know, you can plan accordingly. Make sure you have a list of possible dates when everyone – including all the senior staff – can attend and that they don't conflict with other company commitments.

Many companies use this opportunity for the company leaders to address the staff and/or hand out annual achievement awards. This will add further value to the event as it is a rare opportunity to speak to the whole company.

One idea is to book into a fully-produced night at a venue. This will deliver a high standard of lighting and decoration at a fraction of the bespoke price and allow you to retain catering and entertainment content within a tight budget.

Be prepared to take a Monday/Tuesday which can cost you 20 per cent less than a prime date. You can also get better prices per head if you book close to maximum numbers, so find a venue that is the right size for your party.

Make sure the basics are right – a good first impression followed by good food, well-served and a great DJ/dance floor can be all you need. Everything else is non-essential to a great party and should be viewed as optional extras or unnecessary if you are on a tight budget.

Times are tough and most guests won't mind if the extras you had last year are not affordable this time. In fact they respect a company for being careful in tougher times but don't be a total Scrooge. Many staff view cancelling the Christmas party as the last straw...

All fired up for a great night out

THE biggest free show in Harlow went with a bang on Sunday as more than 15,000 people converged on the Town Park for the annual fireworks show.

The entertainment kicked off with the Heart radio roadshow and live performances from James McQueen, Jazz Blaack, Antix, Hip Hop Pop and Vanquish.

Harlow Council chair Linda Pailing, assisted by Playhouse panto cast members Kevin James and Emily Irish, then lit the bonfire. This was followed by a laser show and the start of the spectacular 20-minute display of pyrotechnics which lit up the night sky.

This year's event, which also included a fun-fair, was organised by the council with help from the Great Parndon Community Association.

Councillor Jean Clark, portfolio holder for community and social inclusion, said: "It was a fantastic night and the huge fireworks display really lit up everyone's evening."

"It's always heartening to hear cheers and applause at the end as you know you have put on a great show. Our display is one of the biggest in the area and there are not many these days which are free to attend."

"By putting on a large public display means that many local families can celebrate this occasion in safety rather than organise their own events."

She thanked the GPCA, council staff and volunteers for their work in making sure the event went off smoothly.

1 in 3 drivers would fail an eye test*

Our roads are busier than ever and poor vision presents a daily threat to the safety of millions of road users. Research shows that, as a nation, we are failing to meet even the minimum standards of vision for safe driving.

Specsavers aims to help motorists understand the dangers of driving with uncorrected vision, touring county shows and town centres across the country with its Drive Safe trailer.

Visitors to the Drive Safe Roadshow are offered free vision and hearing screening, with experts on hand to answer questions. The trailer offers free glasses MOTs (cleaning and adjustments) and has all the latest frames on display.

Halloween event is frightfully good fun

YOUNGSTERS with a taste for the scary got stuck into some Halloween-inspired activities at the Harvey Centre on Thursday as part of a special-themed event.

The day of entertainment began with special arty party workshops where children could create their own customised trick or treat bags, witches' hats, wizard's wands and much more.

The shopping centre's very own witch then led them on a trick or treat trail around the centre gathering ghoulish goodies along the way.

Family home turns into a house of horrors

A MOTHER and son turned their home into a spooky Halloween horror house.

Shirley and Budd Birkitt spent hours decorating the inside and outside of their Arkwrights home complete with inflatable witches, coffins, pumpkins and live actors.

"My memories of Halloween are my mum putting coloured sugar onto apples and apple bobbing," said Shirley. "We used to hang them from a door frame and had to eat off all the sugar."

"Once I had my own place I started getting decorations from America because when I started doing decorations like this there wasn't anything like there is now in UK shops.

"We start at the beginning of the day and we have children with their parents come along all through the day.

"It just gets bigger every year. We have the house decorated on the inside as well, and we entertain the little ones. The response is always fantastic; we even have live actors ready to scare the parents!"

In Memoriam

RONALD FRY

25-6-37 - 9-11-09

A dear Husband and wonderful
Dad and Grandad.

Another year has passed away, still love you and miss you every day.

It broke our hearts to lose you the day God called you home, part of us went with you, you never went alone.

Remembering you is easy, we do it every day, missing you is the hardest part,
as it never goes away.

If we could have a lifetime wish, a dream that could come true, we'd pray to God with all our hearts, for yesterday and you.

A thousand words can't bring you back, we know because we've tried and neither can a thousand tears, we know because we've cried.

You left behind our broken hearts but happy memories too, we never wanted memories, we only wanted you.

Rest in peace Sweetheart.

Your ever loving wife Jean and family.

PAT McCABE

All the world would be like heaven,

If we could have you back again.

Loved and missed so very much.

God Bless. RIP

Love Patrick, Jimmy, Lynne, Mary, Una and Andy.

Football's farewell to soccer boss Don

THE football community from Harlow and beyond turned out in force to say goodbye to one of its favourite sons.

Around 400 people attended the funeral on Friday at Parndon Wood Crematorium of Don Watters, who died last month aged 63.

Mourners filled the crematorium and more than 200 stood outside where they listened to the service relayed over speakers. Many wore red as requested by Mr Watters' family to mark his support for Arsenal.

Mr Watters not only managed Harlow & District League sides and the old Nortel team but also Sawbridgeworth Town and Stansted before later taking Takeley into the Essex Senior League for the first time in the club's history.

In his latter years he managed Bishop's Stortford FC reserves.

Scores of footballers from across West Essex and East Herts attended the service. These included Bishop's Stortford manager and former Harlow Town player Rod Stringer, former Brighton & Hove Albion boss Jeff Wood and representatives from all the senior clubs Watters had managed.

Sawbridgeworth manager Marc Das, a favourite at Bishop's Stortford and Harlow Town in the 1980s and 1990s, was also present.

The FA Cup anthem Abide With Me was played as the coffin was carried into the crematorium. It was greeted with a spontaneous round applause by the congregation.

A poem was read by Mr Watters' granddaughter Charlie and the theme tune to Match of the Day was played.

Born in Northumberland in 1950, Mr Watters moved to Harlow in the 1960s and worked at United Glass and then Pitney Bowes. But football was always his first love and he started managing at the age of 30.

He won more than 100 cups and trophies during his time as a manager at his various clubs.

Dad uses a 3D printer to build a hand for his son

A FATHER has created a prosthetic hand for his 12-year-old son using a 3D printer.

Paul McCarthy from the USA, made the inexpensive yet functional prosthetic hand for his son Leon, who was born without fingers on one of his hands.

The family had been told when Leon was very young that he needed to get used to using his hand without prosthetics and try to acquire a full range of abilities and motion, but a doctor recently said they should start looking at prosthetic options.

Mr McCarthy began searching for a way to help his son and came across Robohand online with instructions on how to use a 3D printer to make a prosthetic hand, reported CBS News. Leon's new hand gives him the ability to carry out tasks such as picking up a water bottle and a pencil.

It cost between $5 and $10 to make compared to the $30,000 cost of a prosthetic.

WIN Family ticket to Playhouse panto

WITH Christmas less than seven weeks away, panto season is just around the corner.

This year Harlow Playhouse will be staging Dick Whittington, starring CBeebies' Let's Play actress Rebecca Keatley in the title role and Channel 5's Milkshake! presenter Jen Pringle as the magical Fairy of the Bells.

The show will feature 18 top class theatre professionals, alongside 24 talented young performers from the area.

This week we are giving you the chance to win one of four family tickets to the panto on Saturday, December 7.

Rebecca said: "Dick Whittington is one of the few pantos to be inspired by an English story. What's lovely for audiences is the historical link between the real Dick Whittington and this part of the UK. It's really exciting to be playing the part here."

Jen added: "We've great surprises in store, even for those who think they know the story."

Theatre manager Scott Ramsay said, "We pride ourselves on telling a strong story, adding new twists and turns that entertain and surprise in equal measure."

"The traditional panto approach is to shipwreck Dick in Morocco after suffering a maritime storm. With the upcoming World Cup and Olympics, we've spiced up the story with a thrilling Pirates of the Caribbean-inspired sequence, landing Dick on the beaches of Rio de Janeiro during the exciting carnival."

Dick Whittington opens on Friday, December 6 and runs until Sunday, January 5. Ticket prices range from £9 -£22.

For a chance to win a family ticket, answer this simple question:

Who will be playing the part of Dick Whittington in the Playhouse panto?

A night to celebrate the best of business

THE wait is almost over. The winners of the Harlow Star Business Excellence Awards 2013 will be revealed at a glittering ceremony tonight (Thursday).

The cream of Harlow's business community will gather at the Manor of Groves Hotel in High Wych for the presentations to the winners of the eight awards.

From an initial entry of more than 70 nominations, a shortlist of finalists was drawn up and they were invited to take part in a Dragons Den-style pitch to a panel of judges drawn from the local business community.

The judges then made their final decision and the results will be announced at tonight's black tie awards ceremony.

The organisers are delighted that Vic Goddard, principal of Passmores School in Harlow, has agreed to be guest speaker.

If you have a ticket for tonight's celebrations we look forward to seeing you there. If not, you can follow the results live on Twitter at #harlowawards, on our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk and in next Thursday's paper.

Guest speaker: Vic Goddard

COUNCIL-estate born and raised, Vic Goddard has worked his way up through the education system from PE teacher via head of department and after a brief stint in Cairo, to one of the most high-profile, controversial, innovative and bluntly passionate headteachers in the country.

Anyone who watched Educating Essex on Channel 4 will know that for themselves.

Vic, the principal of Passmores Academy in Harlow, brings drive, creativity and innovation to his role, putting the children he so clearly cares for centre stage at every opportunity. He also brings the human touch to what he unashamedly describes as "his other family".

In his own words: "If you saw the programme, you'll recognise me, I'm the one crying."

His passion for education – an education that refuses to accept limits in what young people and their teachers are capable of – is matched by his genuine zeal for educational leadership. "It's the best job in the world," he says.

Since the airing of the BAFTA-winning TV show in the autumn of 2011, Vic has been very much in demand, speaking at headteacher conferences such as the National College and the Association of School and College Leaders, as well as talking to audiences of new teachers, encouraging them not only to embrace teaching as a profession but also have the ambition and drive to aim for headship.

10-year plan to transform health care is approved

HEALTH chiefs in West Essex have approved a draft vision for transforming health services in Harlow, Epping Forest and Uttlesford over the next 10 years.

The West Essex Clinical Commissioning Group blueprint - My health, My future, My say - A Vision for the West Essex Health and Care System 2014-2024 - was presented at an extraordinary board meeting at Harlow Study Centre on Thursday.

It outlines the new models for health and care that are emerging as well as the results of a public engagement campaign. The vision focuses on four areas: older people, children and maternity, working age adults and mental health and vulnerable adults.

It also includes some of the key themes that have come out of the engagement programme over the last few months such as putting quality and the patient first, providing better access to GP services, an integrated approach to health and care, personal responsibility, prevention and early intervention, a changing culture and a significant shift of care into a community setting.

STAR REPORTER

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

During the meeting Wendy Smith, independent communications adviser, provided an overview of the public engagement campaign results and how they were incorporated into the overall vision. The approach was opened to the board for discussion followed by questions from the public.

Harlow GP and West Essex CCG chairman Dr Rob Gerlis said: "We are thrilled that the board has approved a vision for the future. It will give us the opportunity to work closely with partners, providers and the public to deliver a system which is truly patient-centred."

"The CCG will now take the next steps to enable the vision to become a reality."

The board also approved the organisational review which proposes changes to the structure and governance of the CCG in order to drive the vision forward.

Copies of the draft vision are available from www.westessexccg.nhs.uk.

Club vice captain Mikel Arteta added: "It was great to meet Jude and to give him a behind the scenes look at how things work on a Premier League match day."

Sue Campbell, the manager of the Junior Gunners said: "We were delighted to offer Jude the chance to be our mascot for the game against Crystal Palace."

PC set for a fundraising close shave

A POLICE constable from Old Harlow is planning to have her head shaved for charity.

Lauren Eifert will then give her tresses to an organisation that makes wigs for children who lose their hair while undergoing treatment for cancer.

Lauren, 31, made the decision after watching her dad beat prostate cancer and her aunt survive breast cancer. She hopes to raise £2,000 for Team PB, a joint campaign between Prostate Cancer Charity and Breast Cancer Care.

"I want to raise as much awareness as possible," she said. "There's a lot of publicity about cancer but people still aren't checking themselves and aren't aware of how common it is."

"One in eight people are diagnosed with breast cancer every day, it's such a common thing and because it's hit home I really want to do something to raise awareness and money."

Lauren's father Pierre, 67, was diagnosed with prostate cancer two years ago.

She said: "Thankfully he was diagnosed quite early on. He went through chemotherapy and radiotherapy and had steroid injections twice a week."

"He looked about 20 years older when he was going through it and he lost all his hair, but it's come back thicker and darker. He's in remission now."

Lauren's aunt, Janet Cavill, was told she had breast cancer three years ago.

"She had a lumpectomy in one of her breasts," said Lauren. "She went through a year of treatment and she came out fighting. She looks very well now."

Lauren added: "I've never been a runner so I thought I would shave my hair off. I love my hair and I've grown it specifically for this."

Owzat! John's cricket scrapbook is a treasure trove of memories

AN Old Harlow resident has written a book that will capture the interest of both cricket and social history lovers.

Those Were The Days – A Yorkshire Boy's Cricket Scrapbook is a collection of the memories of 75-year-old John White, of The Seeleys.

Born in Royston in Yorkshire, Mr White was brought up in a close-knit mining community. During his childhood he collected cigarette cards of cricketers and his prize possession was one of his hero Norman Yardley, who was from the same village and captained Yorkshire and England.

The book, which features a foreword by Yardley's son Ed and photographs from the Yardley family albums, contains a potted history of Yorkshire cricket illustrated with hundreds of items from Mr White's personal collection of pictures, photographs, postcards, press cuttings, books and, of course, cigarette cards.

The 1930s and later the 1960s were particularly fruitful times for Yorkshire and Mr White captures the triumphs and the heroes. What also comes through is how much it meant to succeed in cricket when the alternative could be a factory job or working in the pit.

● Those Were The Days – A Yorkshire Boy's Cricket Scrapbook costs £20 and is available from www.cricket-books.com.

THE Royal British Legion's Poppy Appeal is one of the nation's largest and most loved fundraising campaigns. This year's appeal focuses on support for Armed Forces families.

The Poppy Appeal has been running in the UK since 1921. Poppies were first suggested as a symbol of remembrance in the USA in November 1918 by Moina Michael, an American War Secretary who had been inspired by John McCrae's poem In Flanders Fields.

In August 1921 Madame Guerin introduced her poppies to the British Legion. The next suitable occasion for a poppy-linked appeal was Armistice Day and so the first Poppy Appeal was born.

In 1922 Major George Howson, a young infantry officer, formed the Disabled Society to help disabled ex-servicemen and women from the First World War. Major Howson suggested to the Legion that members of the Disabled Society could make poppies and a factory was subsequently founded in Richmond in 1922.

The original poppy was designed so that workers with a disability could easily assemble it and this principle remains today.

The first appeal raised £106,000 (nearly £30m in today's terms). Help make this year's Poppy Appeal better than ever. Show your support and buy a poppy.

Simple steps to help keep burglars at bay

IT is a fact that every autumn, in the run-up to Christmas, the house burglary rate rises in most areas of the country... and this includes Harlow.

A lot of police resources locally are being targeted towards preventing burglaries and our uniform and CID teams have had some good successes in the past couple of weeks.

For example, two local teenagers have been charged with a burglary in Brockles Mead, two men have been charged with a burglary in Old Harlow and, as I write this column, three males are in custody answering questions about incidents in Manor Hatch and Five Acres.

Obviously, the fact that these arrests have been made means that house break-ins are still happening, although the number has been falling over the past couple of years. There are some very simple tips to try to avoid being a victim, bearing in mind that many of these crimes happen during the day when people are out at work or shopping.

If you are out during the day or early evening - from 4pm onwards - leave a light on at home.

Don't leave your side gate open and arrange for deliveries to be made when you are at home.

The most important and most simple tip I can give you is if you have a UPVC door always pull the handle up and lock it. Do not assume that lifting the handle activates the deadbolts. It does not.

For lots of sensible crime prevention advice, please look at the Essex Police website - www.essex.police.uk.

The Neighbourhood Police Teams continue to follow up calls regarding drug dealing with warrants being executed in Sewell Harris Close; Mill Court; Kingsland and West Road over the past few weeks.

You may have seen the front page of the Star a couple of

By Sergeant Rob Cox
Harlow Neighbourhood Policing Team

weeks ago when my team recovered over £250,000 worth of cannabis plants. A man remains in custody awaiting a number of drugs-related charges.

Our work against nuisance 'drinkers' in the town centre and The Hides area is continuing.

PC Tim Knights has been successful in obtaining a full two-year Anti-Social Behaviour Order against a 50 year-old man from Herons Wood who has been convicted of a number of public order offences linked to alcohol over the summer period. The ASBO makes this male subject to arrest if he enters The Hides or behaves in this appalling manner.

With an early view towards Christmas, please be careful if you withdraw large amounts of cash for your shopping.

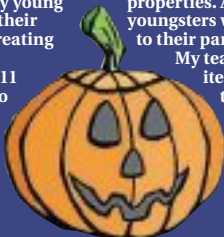

Thieves may be watching the cash machine. Cover the cash machine screen when you enter your PIN number, put your cash away immediately either in a trouser pocket or at the bottom of your bag and try to be aware of who is near you when you are shopping in general.

We continue to have relatively low levels of thefts from handbags and pockets in the main shopping areas but please do everything you can to prevent being an easy target to pickpockets and thieves.

HALLOWEEN passed relatively peacefully across the town. It was really nice to see so many young children out with their parents trick-or-treating responsibly.

We received just 11 different reports to nuisance behaviour on the night, the lowest number I can remember which is encouraging.

There was a large group of teenagers in Church Langley who threw eggs at some local properties. A number of these youngsters were taken home to their parents.

My team seized various items from youths in the town including eggs, flour, tangerines and fireworks to prevent nuisance and damage.

Popular music hall show revived for anniversary

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW's longest-running amateur dramatics group - which recently celebrated its 60th anniversary - is reviving its popular old time music hall Full of Joys.

The production toured the West Essex/East Herts area during the 1970s and '80s and in tribute to those 'good old days' the Moot House Players will be reviving it for three nights later this month.

Players' chairman Geoff Leeds, who is directing the production, said: "It's a great little show with choruses to join in with as well as a melodrama with a hero to cheer and a villain to boo."

"There's stand-up comedy, dance, monologue and songs from the halls, in fact everything required to furnish a splendid evening of music and nostalgia."

A licensed bar and seating at tables will be provided in the hall for the convenience of patrons.

The Players have followed tradition and engaged a galaxy of esteemed performers, some of whom were in the original production. Special guests include professional music hall artistes Lynne Heraud and Pat Turner, well-known actor and singer

James Miller and the Pegleg Unicorn Cloggies.

Moot House regulars include Jennifer Southwell, Robbie Chittick, Dan Powell and Kerry Rowland while Jenny Newburn tickles the ivories. Dance, movement and melodramatic direction are in the capable hands of Harlow Ballet stalwarts Michael and Henrietta Branwell.

>>> Full of Joys Old Time Music

Hall with be staged at Moot Hall, The Stow, from next Thursday (November 14) to Saturday at 8pm. Tickets cost £8 (£6 unwaged) and are available from the box office on (01279) 639170.

Peace-themed concert on Remembrance eve

IN a programme themed for peace and reconciliation, Harlow Chorus will present Karl Jenkins' The Armed Man - a Mass for Peace on the eve of Remembrance Sunday.

Currently in Classic FM's top 20 hall of fame, the work caught the imagination of the nation's listeners as soon the first recording was released on the day before the 9/11 tragedy.

Beautiful passages such as the Benedictus are contrasted with terrifying depictions of war from the Middle Ages to Hiroshima.

A grant from the Harlow Recreation Trust has enabled the Chorus to engage top London orchestra the Brandenburg Sinfonia and Scottish/New Zealand soprano Kirstin Sharpin.

Pupils from Henry Moore Primary School and Passmores Academy are also taking part, as will be the Chorus' training choir the Harlow Chorus Academy. Alexander Chaplin will be conducting.

The concert takes place at Passmores Academy in Traceys Road, Harlow, on Saturday, starting at 7.30pm.

Tickets are £15 (£12 concessions, £6 for under 16s) and can be bought online at www.harlowchorus.ticketsource.co.uk, from Julia Dimon on (01277) 362440 or by email to tickets@harlowchorus.org.uk. Some tickets will also be available on the door.

Deeply moving and darkly funny, enter Josephine's world of Mess

BILLED as a new 'play with songs' from 2013 Olivier Award nominated Caroline Horton, Mess is the story of one person's journey through anorexia to recovery.

Based on the writer's own experiences of the disease, it tells the story of Josephine (Caroline Horton) as she attempts to stage on a play that will tackle issues and conquer stigma. She is helped in her endeavours by good friend Boris (Emily Goddard) and musician Sistol (Seirail Davies).

The trio are catapulted from the depths of despair and bafflement to the heights of joy and hope as they struggle to tell the story of Josephine's anorexia and recovery.

Mess is a window into an internal world of addiction and control which is finally rejected for the outside world - messy, chaotic, rich.

With absurd physical theatre, original songs and a story of personal struggle, Mess is darkly funny, deeply moving and incredibly bold.

It was first developed at the Tristan Bates Theatre in 2010 and subsequently commissioned by Parabola Arts Centre, BAC and Triggered@Warwick Arts Centre with funding from a Wellcome Trust Arts Award and Arts Council England.

Acutely aware of the ethical concerns of creating work about mental illness, Caroline collaborated closely with experts from Ethox, Beat, the Maudsley Hospital and King's College London's Institute of Psychiatry in both the study and treatment of anorexia and the ethical issues surrounding it.

Mess premiered at the Traverse Theatre during the 2012 Edinburgh Festival Fringe. The show played to sell-out audiences and received positive reviews in the Financial Times, Time Out, Metro and Evening Standard. It was also featured in articles and blogs in The Guardian, The List, Fest and The Scotsman.

The show was a Stage 'Pick of the Fringe' and won the Stage Award for Best Ensemble. >>> Mess is at the Harlow Playhouse tonight (Thursday). Tickets cost £15 and are available from the box office on (01279) 431945 or online at www.playhouseharlow.com.

Slugging it out with slimy invader

IMAGINE a Britain without vegetable patches, allotments or beautiful flower beds, where gardeners are unable to grow anything outside, knowing any plants will be ravaged by a foreign predator.

This is, admittedly, a worst case scenario, but still not an impossible one, says scientist Dr Ian Bedford, head of entomology in the John Innes Centre in Norwich. He is leading a group of scientists in a project to monitor sightings of the Spanish slug, Arion vulgaris, a particularly aggressive and large slug (pictured) which breeds and eats at a faster rate than our native species and has so much slime on its body many native predators are put off.

The scientists launched a website, slugwatch.co.uk, a couple of weeks ago, asking people to report sightings. Within 10 days, there had been 18,000 visitors to the site and more than 800 submissions, some reporting the Spanish slugs, Dr Bedford confirms.

He says that the reports from the public may also give scientists an idea of whether 'Arion vulgaris' is breeding with native species to form a hybrid that combines the worst of the Spanish slug with the tolerance to frosts and cold from our own species.

This year has generally been a bad year for slugs. Late spring frosts killed off a lot of them, but this may just be offsetting the plague that could follow – we need late spring frosts and early winters to kill off juvenile slugs to keep numbers down.

Last year, however, was a different story as, following a mild spring and wet summer, Dr Bedford found Spanish slugs ravaging his own garden in Norfolk.

GARDENING TIPS by Hannah Stephenson

"The only vegetables which survived the onslaught were parsnips," he recalls. "They attacked legumes, onions and chives. They ate broad beans, French beans and runner beans and were going to the top of the plants and eating them from the top downwards. I couldn't get carrots past early germination stage and the same with lettuces and beetroot."

"All the potato foliage was eaten, although I did manage to harvest some potatoes, and the foliage of onions was also attacked, which resulted in very small onions."

He had evidence of Spanish slugs eating snails and even working their way through dog faeces and eating dead animals such as mice.

Growing plants which slugs don't like may provide some solution for domestic gardeners, though.

"The plants which don't seem to get attacked by slugs are the ones which have high levels of plant oils, such as rosemary, which has high levels of camphor, and lavender," says Dr Bedford.

Other plants not favoured by slugs include azaleas, pieris, geraniums, mature shrubs and conifers, although Dr Bedford points out that last year Spanish slugs ate his buddleia and rudbeckias.

Contrary to reports, slug pellets will kill Spanish slugs but because of their voracious appetite they will eat a lot of slug pellets before they die, he notes.

It's better to go on slug patrol early morning and at dusk, preferably after rain, as these huge slugs are highly visible, and pick them off before putting them into a bucket of water containing detergent which will cause them to sink, he advises. Then dispose of them and bleach the bucket to kill off any bacteria.

Winter digging may also help expose the eggs, which look like an off-white jelly about a quarter of the size of a pea. They are generally laid up to 5cm under the soil surface, or under logs and stones, or terracotta plant pots.

Slugs are nothing new to gardeners nationwide. On average a UK garden is home to more than 20,000 slugs and it is estimated that an acre of farmland can support more than 250,000 of the slippery creatures.

The RHS takes a more cautious approach regarding how great a threat the Spanish slug is to our gardens. Guy Barter, head of RHS advisory service, says: "We are not clear what the threat is or how widespread it is likely to be. At this point there's no reason to be anxious about it. We need more evidence."

Space thriller will take your breath away

AS misfortune stacks upon tragedy in Alfonso Cuarón's deep space survival thriller, the stricken heroine greets her seemingly inevitable demise with a moment of deadpan humour.

"I hate space," she sighs, resigned to the terrifying fate that awaits her. And by the conclusion of the film which puts its lead character through the physical and emotional wringer as she drifts through the inky void, we hate it, too.

Scripted by Cuarón and his son Jonas, the film is lean and runs to a sprightly 91 minutes, most of which will be spent marvelling at the virtuosity of the camerawork, editing and spectacular visual effects.

Avatar and Life Of Pi may have pushed the boundaries of 3D but Gravity propels the format into another universe. It is a film that demands to be seen on the largest possible screen, preferably IMAX 3D, which gives the impression of floating with the astronauts as they face life-or-death choices.

The film opens in silence with

GRAVITY (3D & 2D)
certificate 12A, 1h31m

the striking orb of planet Earth slowly rotating like a sleeping giant. Gradually, a Space Shuttle comes into view, docked close to the Hubble space telescope.

Commander Matt Kowalski (George Clooney), a veteran of the space programme on his final mission, provides encouragement to fellow astronaut Shariff (Phaldut Sharma) and specialist Dr Ryan Stone (Sandra Bullock), who is travelling in space for the first time.

"Houston, I have a bad feeling about this mission," jokes Kowalski as he yammers with Mission Control (voiced by Ed Harris), keeping the mood light as the three-strong team completes its delicate and precise work.

Out of the blue, Mission Control orders Kowalski to abort the mission and return to the shuttle. A Russian missile strike on a defunct satellite has created a debris cloud that is heading straight towards the crew's current position.

As Steven Price's orchestral score reaches a deafening crescendo, razor-sharp debris rips apart the shuttle, killing Shariff and hurtling Stone through space.

Kowalski does his best to keep her calm over the radio. "What's your favourite thing about being up here?" he asks soothingly. "The silence," she replies, "I could get used to it."

If Kowalski cannot locate Stone before her dwindling oxygen supply runs out then that silence will consume her.

Gravity employs the latest groundbreaking technology to realise Cuarón's startling vision of one woman battling against the odds in the one place that no-one can hear her scream.

The complexity of the director's vision and the effortlessness with which he realises it are jaw-dropping. All of the oxygen seems to be sucked out of the cinema in those disconcertingly calm opening minutes but once hell breaks loose, the audience is left gasping for air as the visual effects team throws everything at her and the screen.

THOR: THE DARK WORLD (3D & 2D)

Superhero Thor (Chris Hemsworth) returns to save mankind in this big budget sequel directed by Alan Taylor. A year has passed since Thor joined The Avengers in the valiant fight to save Earth. The crown prince of Asgard faces a primal race called the Malekith which intends to destroy the Nine Realms of Norse mythology. Odin (Sir Anthony Hopkins) and the combined forces of Asgard are unable to repel the onslaught so Thor must descend back to terra firma and reunite with his sweetheart astrophysicist Jane Foster (Natalie Portman), who he abandoned at the end of the first film. Apologies out of the way, Thor and Jane must embark on a perilous road if they are to defeat the Malekith and, unthinkable, Thor must also rebuild bridges with his nefarious adoptive brother Loki (Tom Hiddleston), who could be the difference between hard-fought victory and crushing defeat.

PHILOMENA

Jane Lee (Anna Maxwell Martin) discovers her mother-er Philomena (Dame Judi Dench) fell pregnant as a teenager in 1952 Ireland and was forced to give up the baby to the sisters at Roscrea Abbey. Jane pitches the story to former Labour advisor turned BBC journalist Martin Sixsmith (Steve Coogan), who initially scoffs at the suggestion he should pen an article about the matriarch and her heartbreaking ordeal. But after a reality check from his wife Kate (Simone Lahbib), Martin agrees to help Philomena track down her boy. Using his connections, Martin takes Philomena to Washington DC to sift through official documents, hoping for a breakthrough to reunite the old woman with the son she never wanted to give up.

CAPTAIN PHILLIPS

Captain Phillips (Tom Hanks) kisses his wife Andrea (Catherine Keener) goodbye and takes charge of his cargo vessel - the Maersk Alabama - bound for Kenya. He is aided by a hard-working international crew including Chief Mate Shane Murphy (Michael Chernus) and Chief Engineer Mike Perry (David Warshofsky). When pirates are spotted off the stern, Phillips telephones the authorities. What follows is a tense game of cat and mouse which culminates in the pirates boarding the vessel by hooking their make-shift ladder over the side of the boat. Phillips conceals the crew below deck in the engine room while he takes charge of the situation. Faced with threats from Muse and his hot-headed compatriot Bilal (Barkhad Abdirahman), he puts himself in harm's way to ensure the safety of every man on board.

ONE CHANCE

Paul Potts (James Cordon) is a shy, bumbling man who has spent years being bullied and lives with his parents in Port Talbot. He earns his living working in Carphone Warehouse with his best mate (Mackenzie Crook) but dreams of becoming an opera singer. After meeting Julie-Ann (Alexandra Roach) - a girl he has been chatting to for a year online - she persuades him to take his first tentative steps towards realising his ambition by taking part in a local talent show. He silences the heckling crowd with his stunning voice and then uses the winnings to enrol on a course in Venice. There he meets the beautiful singer Alessandra (Valeria Bilello) and earns the opportunity to sing in front of Pavarotti, but when it comes to the big day nerves get the better of him, he chokes and the big man tells him he'll never make it. So Potts returns to Wales, wins over Julie-Ann and plods along in life, overcoming a host of obstacles before applying to take part in Simon Cowell's show Britain's Got Talent.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

ENERGY costs are up again and although Ed Milliband has said Labour will freeze energy prices while David Cameron says he'll increase competition in the sector, neither proposal is likely to happen soon.

There are plenty of things you can do to reduce your energy bills. Apart from shopping around for a better deal you can take some steps to help yourself.

Is your loft properly insulated? Even if you already have insulation it will need to be 270mm deep which is the recommended depth for mineral wool insulation. It costs around £300 for the average home (there are some grants available) and you should save up to £175 a year.

Turning the heating down by just a few degrees can make a big difference, too. If you reduce it from the average 20 degrees down to 19 degrees you may not even notice the difference but every degree is worth approximately £65 a year. Make sure your hot water is set at 60C or 140 F; if it's not you could be wasting money.

Lights account for some 19 per cent of your electricity bill. If you replace all your standard bulbs with energy saving ones you'll save around £60 a year.

Something else that's quick and simple to do is to put draught excluders in those gaps around doors and windows. And since around 14 per cent of air escapes via the chimney, it is also worth sealing up any unused fireplaces. This can save you around £75 a year.

If you take a shower instead of a bath it uses almost 70 per cent less hot water.

Just turning appliances off rather than leaving them on standby will save you around £50-£90 each year.

Your boiler accounts for 79 per cent of your fuel usage. Replacing one costs around £1,500-£2,000 but could save over £200 a year if it was old and inefficient.

A dogs sixth sense and estate agents!

A few weeks ago I was one of 4 agents invited to carry out a valuation. The 3 agents had visited the property prior to my appointment and on the coffee table was a big pile of very impressive promotional brochures explaining their services.

I did my presentation and left a brief A4 list of what we do, there was nothing too fancy but it covered the main points which seemed to go down well and the owner said she would let me know within a few days who would be her agent.

A few days later I was invited back to see the lady, she was very happy for me to start the marketing.

So I asked why Centurion?

She said I was the only agent who her Dog didn't bark at!

Ask an Expert!

As you look through the pages of most property-related newspapers and magazines, you are likely to come across one survey or another that seeks to prove how various property improvements add a certain percentage to the value of a property.

There has recently been a marked increase in the number of people undertaking improvements whose motivation is specifically to increase the value of their property prior to a sale. If you are considering such improvements, you should approach such surveys with caution. For example, the public's response to a recent survey as to which home improvements were most likely to add value were at odds with the view of a panel of property valuation experts and Chartered Surveyors. The public's view was that a new kitchen would add more value than either a loft conversion or an extension. Certainly, whilst a new kitchen might be the most impressive of the three and have the greatest initial impact, we would agree with the expert view that an extension, closely followed by a loft conversion, would generally contribute more to a property's value than a kitchen.

This is because, unlike a kitchen, an extension of some description actually increases the size and hence usability of the property. This means that it is likely to appeal to more buyers and therefore generate a higher price for your home. This is especially true where the additional space means that your property falls into the category of buyer above that in which it stood before it was extended. For example, a two bedroom cottage suddenly appeals to the family market once a third bedroom and second bathroom are added.

There are numerous factors to consider when deciding how to enhance your property's value and saleability. Please feel free to call us if you would like to discuss your own plans with an expert.

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Raiders caught out as experience proves vital

HARLOW Hawks continued their recent upturn in form with a 64-53 home win over newly-promoted Genting Raiders in division two of the Herts Basketball League.

It was the home side who found their offensive rhythm first.

Roan Lenihan provided a spark off the bench as he attacked the basket and knocked down his shots.

Hawks managed to keep the visitors scoreless for the last two minutes of the period, leading 18-8 at the break.

Sam Kmita, returning from a knee injury, knocked down two early shots to keep the momentum going.

He was backed up by Russ Allan's athletic display, adding eight consecutive points by flying to the basket.

Hawks' defence became a little lazy as they committed a number of fouls sending the visitors to the free throw line where they had mixed success.

Harlow also lost their big man Tom White to an ankle injury.

Hawks were 35-19 up at half-time.

The second half saw the visitors put a quick 7-0 run together as they upped their intensity on both ends of the floor.

A few careless turnovers from the Hawks gave the away side a glimmer of hope.

The Raiders closed the gap to 11 by the end of the third quarter and it was well and truly game on.

Genting kept coming and kept pushing as the Hawks offense began to stutter with a lack of movement and too much dribbling.

Coach Shab Niaz turned to the old guard to close out the game, fielding his experienced players.

The visitors managed to get to within three points with a minute to go, but a great team defensive effort by the Hawks saw the Raiders throw the ball away.

Late free throws enabled the hosts to put the match to bed.

HARLOW HAWKS: Allan (14pts), Lenihan (10pts), Norkelinas (9pts), Kmita (9pts), Moss (5pts), Jones (4pts), Khatiri (4pts), Morris (4pts), Burgess (3pts), Whytock (2pts), Adnan, White.

No.1 rider Allen dropped as Rockets go for revamp

RYE House Rockets are looking for a new number one after promoter Len Silver confirmed Olly Allen will not be riding for the team next season.

Meanwhile, Harlow Flyer Luke Bowen has moved a step closer to a return to the Hoddesdon-based speedway team.

"To be honest with you it didn't work out for both of us," Silver said about Allen's departure.

Silver added that Kasper Lykke, who struggled in the reserve berth for Rockets last season, wasn't in his plans.

"Kasper doesn't appear in any of my permutations for the side, but Luke Bowen is very much in the pipeline – as is Steve Boxall.

SPEEDWAY

"Olly's home form suffered badly and he wasn't happy with his performances at home.

"I wasn't happy with those performances either, so I decided not to include him in my plans for next year.

"I wish him well wherever he ends up riding."

Allen ended the season on a high by winning the Premier League Riders' Championship trophy, and helped the Rockets reach the final of the Knockout Cup, where they lost to Somerset.

He had an average of 8.28 – the sixth best record in the Premier League.

Allen, who is contracted to Elite League side Coventry Bees, said: "It's a shame, Len informed me last week that I wouldn't be needed.

"I don't hold any bad feelings, everyone at Rye House has been good to me.

"Perhaps it's a blessing in disguise.

"My home form was worse than my away form. I had some very good meets, but got injured a few times.

"Rye House is a track that takes a lot of getting used to.

"I'm very much looking forward to next season, wherever that may be. I've spoken to a few clubs and am open to offers.

"This season I enjoyed doubling-up, so that's something that I wouldn't rule out, we'll have to wait and see what happens."

Silver's 2014 team is beginning to take shape. "I'm waiting to find out what the league set up will be.

"But I can confirm the team will contain three absolute bankers – Anders Mellgren, Tyson Nelson and Jason Garrity, who will form the heart of the side.

"All the other places are up for grabs but I'd be surprised if it didn't include Jason Bunyan."

Bowen, a former Mark Hall School student, is set to return after an injury-plagued couple of years.

He has been a firm favourite with his daredevil rides and courageous riding style.

Wapping too sharp as team's run ends

WAPPING'S clinical edge proved too much as Harlow Ladies' recent run of results came to an end on Saturday.

However, the visitors can be proud of their performance against a Wapping IV team who are five places higher in the Essex Women's Hockey League premier division table.

There was plenty of pressure on the home team early on during the first half.

Good passing saw a few opportunities for Harlow, but the back of the box seemed just out of reach.

Two penalty corners also failed to deliver but the pressure was definitely on.

During the second half Wapping came back into the game and outpaced the visitors.

Two goals were scored in quick succession to give the home team a healthy lead.

Excellent defending from Petra Trimble and good saves from Linda Rowley prevented further goals.

Charlotte Byers came close with a good break, but Harlow could not find the net.

Player of the match for Harlow was Bethan Spencer.

HARLOW (squad): Rowley, Castle, Trimble, Chambers, Turner, Spencer, Tweddle, Shearman, Smith, Byers.

● HARLOW Ladies II won 6-0 against Phoenix III in division four on Saturday.

Harlow had four reserves and played against a team of only nine, dominating the play and creating numerous chances.

Goals were scored by Lara Horrax, Steph Hawes, Emily Taylor and a hat-trick for Tracey Taylor.

Player of the match went to Steph Hawes for several assists.

HARLOW (squad): T. Taylor, E. Taylor, Johnson-Marshall, Alderson, Horrax, Hawes, S. Donaghey, N. Donaghey, Care, Cunningham, O. Figg, A. Figg, Burgess, Naidoo.

Reliable Read reignites Hawks' play-off quest

THE Hawks showed the resilience a side needs if it is to challenge for a play-off spot when they beat Needham Market at home, writes DAVID RIMMER.

Saturday's victory was marked by defensive composure throughout and attacking flair from the hosts in the second half.

The Hawks included new signing winger Aaron Greene, the son of Hawks former manager Dave Greene and there was a first start for central defender Joshua McLeod-Urquhart.

Harlow had an early set back when midfielder Stan Muguo went off injured after five minutes and he was replaced by John Glowacki.

Needham, with the wind in their favour, had the better of a goalless first half.

Ryan Charles shot over when well placed on 13 minutes while home keeper Darren Behcet produced good saves to keep out efforts from Jamie Guy on 24 and 38 minutes.

At the other end Harlow's industrious centre forward Alex Read had an acute-angled shot blocked on 22 minutes by visitors' keeper Andrew Plummer.

Read, the division's top scorer,

DANGER MAN: Harlow's Alex Read

said: "The conditions did not help in the first half but their shots were coming from outside the box but our keeper made two very good saves. We defended very well and I thought Joshua [Urquhart-McLeod] was outstanding."

Early second-half action saw Junior Dadson and Robbie Martin both force smart saves from Plummer.

Harlow went ahead in the 70th minute. A cross from the right was flicked on by Leon Antoine before substitute Shane Stamp volleyed powerfully over Plummer into the net with a sweet left-footed volley from 12 yards.

The lead was doubled four minutes later. Read took the ball on the right side of the box and beat a Needham defender before firing a low shot into the far corner.

Read said: "Shane hit it really sweetly for his first goal and Leon Antoine did well to win the header. I was pleased with my goal."

"I had not had a good game against Cheshunt and as soon as I hit it I knew it was going in."

"We are starting to come together and can do well. It was a fantastic team performance."

The visitors halved the deficit on 88 minutes. A free-kick from the right fell to full-back Sheridan Driver to tuck home, but Harlow hung on to win.

HARLOW TN: Behcet, Martin, Eadie, McLeod-Urquhart, Brown, Blewitt, Dadson (Smith 71) Muguo (Glowacki 5), Read, Antoine, Greene (Stamp 61). Subs not used: Curley, May. Att: 195.

Rams deliver title message with third victory

THE Rams chalked up a third successive victory to continue their climb up the RFU London division three north east table.

Harlow are now fifth but cut leaders Sudbury's advantage to seven points.

The Suffolk side suffered a surprise 17-8 loss to Wanstead, who the Rams had beaten a week earlier.

But Lee Harron's men could quite easily have lost Saturday's game, and only claimed the points in dramatic fashion in the last five minutes.

In windy and rainy conditions, Dobson missed an early penalty before the visitors opened the scoring on 20 minutes. Rob Mackie, the Harlow full-back, made a good break opening a gap in the defence before passing inside to lock James Unwin who ran in for an unconverted try.

After a handling error, Harlow winger Chris Webb kicked the ball downfield and out-paced the home defence before touching down in the corner.

Dobson's conversion attempt hit a post, a good attempt in the conditions.

Upminster responded almost immediately as their outside centre ran to 10 yards of the try line. He was tackled but off-loaded to a winger who scored in the corner for an unconverted try.

Playing up the slope in the second half, Harlow continually ran into a solid Upminster defensive line.

On 70 minutes the Rams were penalised close to the Harlow try line.

Knowing that three points would not be enough Upminster opted to drive for the line. Harlow held them up but they moved the ball wide and found a gap in the defence to run in the try. Their conversion was good putting them 12-10 ahead.

With the clock running down Harlow threw everything into attack.

Substitutions gave Harlow fresh legs in the scrum enabling them to dominate the set-pieces, driving Upminster back.

With five minutes to go the Rams were awarded a penalty about 35 yards out. Skipper Shaun Roberts asked Dobson to try for the posts and despite the conditions he showed incredible skill to put the ball over and give Harlow a one-point lead.

Harlow defended well until a minute to go when the home side made a long pass to their winger who was unmarked. He sprinted down the touchline and looked to be clear for a certain try, but was taken out with a super tackle by Jamie Fricker who had sprinted almost the width of the field.

Fricker was immediately on his feet to grab the ball and put it into touch, at which point the referee blew the whistle for the end of the game.

Director of rugby Harron said: "It was a very dogged performance that I was very pleased with. The guys followed the game plan very well."

"I was particularly pleased with our patience and composure in the last 10 minutes after going 12-10 down as we kept the ball for several phases taking the ball deep into the Upminster half and drawing the penalty that was converted by Michael Dobson in terrible conditions.

"A special mention should go to Jamie Fricker who has been outstanding in the last two weeks since his return from injury."

Harlow host title rivals Old Cooperians on Saturday. Kick-off is at 2.30pm and admission is free.

Harlow held by Dereham

THERE were plenty of fireworks on Bonfire Night as Harlow Town drew 2-2 at home to Dereham Town in Ryman division one north on Tuesday.

The Hawks took the lead after 16 minutes through Robbie Martin. Martin rifled a looping shot in from the edge of the penalty area.

But Dereham levelled on 33 minutes through Craig Bussens largely against the run of play, and after Harlow had missed a few chances.

Six minutes after the break the visitors went 2-1 up through Kyle Downes.

This was a rather fortunate goal as a defensive clearance struck Downes and flew in.

But Harlow's top scorer Alex Read rescued a point on 67 minutes when he stabbed in after Danny Brown's header was dropped by the keeper on the line.

HARLOW TN: Behcet, Martin, Stamp, Mcleod-Urquhart, Brown, Blewitt, Smith, Glowacki, Read, Antoine, Greene. Subs: Dadson, Curley, Hart, May.

Coaching session run by ex-Hammers star

FORMER West Ham favourite Julian Dicks put a group of young Harlow footballers through their paces in a training session.

Left-back Dicks (45), who notched up 262 appearances for the Hammers, is now a full-time coach and was at Ladyshot to give the Langley Colts Stallions and Langley Colts Mustangs U-10 players some top coaching tips.

John Wakefield, co-manager of the Stallions, arranged the session to give the boys the unique experience of training like a professional for a day.

The boys enjoyed a technical warm-up followed by several drills designed to give them valuable knowledge about the beautiful game.

Wakefield said: "Julian's visit provided the boys with a fantastic coaching session and everyone really enjoyed the experience."

After the session, Dicks posed for pictures and signed autographs for all, including the parents.

"Everyone at Langley Colts Youth FC would like to thank Julian for such a great day," added Wakefield.

NEW major Hawks sponsor John Barnett is excited about the outlook for the Ryman League club after his company ploughed a five-figure sum aimed at driving the team towards the premier division and beyond.

Barnett, the managing director of City of London based foreign exchange trading firm OPT FX, attended Harlow Town's home match against Needham Market on Saturday with four company representatives.

He has come on board after he was approached by a Harlow Town director Paul Wilson.

Barnett (42) is no relation of Harlow Town chairman John Barnett.

The deal runs to the end of this season with the option to renew and the money will cover all aspects including the playing budget.

Barnett said: "I have known Paul for around 10 years and when he told me what the club were trying to do I was really excited.

"I like the 3G pitch and that kids can come through the academy. I am impressed by the stadium. I like to be involved with something like this."

Barnett was hugely impressed with Hawks co-owner and chief executive, former QPR and Leyton Orient star Tom Cunningham.

"Tom Cunningham has impressed me with his enthusiasm about what he is trying to do," said Barnett.

"I am looking for brand awareness [for OPT FX] rather than a particular amount of business and I like the fact that the stadium is used for all the week. The pitch does not get worn out and that is a selling point for me. A lot of people are using the site every week."

Looking ahead, Barnett said: "I would hope the club is going to be two or three leagues higher within the next five years. It is possible."

"It would give us more exposure and the club more exposure and everyone is a winner."

Barnett, who is a Crystal Palace fan, said: "There is space to extend the stands at both ends."

Wilson, who has been on the Harlow board since the start of the season, said: "It broadens our horizons and hopefully he can be involved for at least five years. It helps the stability of the club to have John Barnett on board."

Wilson (61) is a self-employed currency dealer. He was appointed as a director by Cunningham.

Meanwhile, Harlow host Waltham Forest in the league this Saturday.

The club have drawn either Redbridge or Brightlingsea Regent at home in the fourth round of the Essex Senior Cup.

This tie will take place the week of November 30.

The league match at AFC Sudbury, which was postponed, has been rearranged for Tuesday December 17 (7.45pm KO).

● HARLOW Town boss Danny Chapman has released striker Chinedu McKenzie.
